PRESS OF FRANCE CLAMORING FOR A NEW DEAL

A Complete Shake-up of the French General Staff, Including the Retirement of Gen. Joffre is Expected.

Paris, Dec. 8.—The cabinet turmoil in England is finding an echo in Paris and a large portion of the press is declaring for a new deal, as far as France is individually concerned. The Echo, d' Paris says: "Not to conquer with the means we possess would be a crime, but to conquer we need an organization and a will. Let us have them."

"Let us choose new leaders," say the Middel, "new leaders who are resolved to conquer or die with us." A complete shakeup of the French general staff including the retirement of General Joffre is anticipated by the votes taken recently in the chamber of deputies. Premier Briand has also submitted thirteen changes to the chamber during its secret session that were approved.

For successors to General Joffre, General Robert Neville or General Petain are favored.

LIBERAL PARTY WILL SUPPORT NEW PREMIER

Ex-Premier Asquith, Its Leader, Defines His Position.

London, Dec. 8.—The Liberal party today voted to support Lloyd George, in his prosecution of the war to an end. The Liberals also voted their confidence in former Premier Asquith, who occupied the position for a period of eight years. Mr. Asquith, who is the leader of the Liberal party, presided at the meeting and in a speech defined his position and told of the circumstances that led up to the government shakeup. The Manchester Guardian is authority for the prediction that the new Premier will make an early effort to settle the home rule question for Ireland.

Portsmouth people appreciate a live-up-to-date paper like The Herald, as is shown by the constantly increasing circulation.

6 Per Cent. Interest

There never was a more opportune time for the one who does not wish to speculate than the present to realize the maximum rate of interest on investments. Take advantage of the unusual opportunities for safe investments in sound New England industrial issues, which yield 6 per cent or more.

THE GLENCOE WOOLEN CO., which operate two mills at Sangerville, Me., are offering a

PERSHING EXPEDITION HAS AIR DOG

By Edmund H. Dolan
Field Headquarters, Punitive Expedition, Mexico, by aeroplane, to Columbus, N. M., Dec. 7.—Just because a dog happens to be an aborigine is no reason why he should travel through the air is it? This is no crude pun; there is a story behind it.

Nearly all army men love animals. Troop and company mascots of the expedition range from goats that eat saddle soap to a decrepit monkey that gets almost nothing. Among other pets of the expedition is the air-dog, a terrier that journeys from the zone from one camp to another on the line of communication. It belongs to a young captain of aviation.

Next to his airplane this aviator has no dearer possession than that pup. At least that is what his flying companions say. "That dog of 8-8," they remarked, is his dearest friend, because it agrees with him in everything he says and does."

When the aviator flies down here from the air station base in Columbus, the air-dog pup comes with him. Seated in the observer's narrow chair, the dog dozes comfortably during the 20 minutes it takes to cover the 100 miles from the border to field headquarters. Apparently the trip is enjoyed by Hank.

His new find is the yearling filly Gunkle by Moke, dam by Walnut Hall. The promising Miss was bred at Walnut Hall farm, Denning, Kentucky, and is entered in all the 1917-1918 futures. It is predicted that she will lead some of the famous former trained colts off the boards.

WELL KNOWN ENTERTAINER.
The versatility of Mr. Hubbard's ability makes it possible for him to be equally effective in either comedy or tragedy, and the wonderful powers of memory he exhibits in the number and length of the dramas he depicts, is particularly a source of wonderment to his audiences. His talk for Saturday afternoon at the Chase Home for Children is on "The Melting of the Ice."

YOU'RE BILIOUS! CLEAN LIVER AND BOWELS TONIGHT

Don't stay headachy, sick, or have bad breath and sour stomach.

Wake up feeling fine! Best laxative for men, women and children.

They don't remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping you head-dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarogs from the drug store and eat one or two tonight and enjoy the best, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fit and fine. Cascarogs never gripe or sicken like salts, pills and enemas. They act so gently that you hardly realize you have taken a cathartic. Mothers should give Cascarogs, sick, bilious or feverish children a whole Cascarog any time—they act thoroughly and are harmless.

SEEMS EVERYONE HEARD ABOUT IT

All want to try new drug that dries up corns so they lift out.

Good news spreads rapidly and drug stores here are kept busy dispensing (freezone), the recent discovery of a Chinaman, which is said to loosen any corns so it lifts out with the fingers.

A quarter of an ounce costs very little at any pharmacy, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from leishman and infection heretofore resulting from the selfish habit of cutting corns.

WILLEMS STARTING ON LONG TRIP

Special Foreign Representative of Dodge Brothers Makes Long Jump to Sea Dealers

E. G. Willems, special foreign representative of Dodge Brothers, is about to start on a little jaunt that will carry him to the far East, including Manila and other island points and eventually to Australia and New Zealand.

Mr. Willems is apparently trying to set a traveling record. During the past year, has traveled more than 50,000 miles, visiting the far eastern region to which he is now returning, and also South Africa and South America.

On one portion of his journey he made a direct jump of 10,000 miles.

Mr. Willems is enthusiastic over the possibilities for American cars in distant lands.

Just a few years ago the American cars had no standing with the "foreign buyers," says Mr. Willems, "but they have won their way and the cars with good reputations in this country are winning like prestidigitants."

The remarkable reception given Dodge Brothers cars when introduced at home has been duplicated wherever they have been shown, and the dealer appointed on any trip during the past year, all report excellent business.

The weather today called out a large number of back to nature people, many of them successful deer hunters.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL GAME AT HAVERHILL

Scott High of Toledo and Haverhill High Play Saturday Afternoon.

Accompanied by 100 business men of their home city, the Scott High School football team of Toledo, Ohio, will clash with the Haverhill High team in Haverhill's new stadium on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for the sectional championship of the country.

Both teams are undefeated. Haverhill claims the state championship since Somerville cancelled earlier in the year, has been defeated by Watford and since Haverhill has not been able to get a date with Brookline. Also Haverhill won handsily from Peabody on Wednesday by the decisive shut-out score of 16 to 0.

Conceded to be the champions of five states, Ohio, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Illinois, the fleet band of Middle Westerners are said to have developed a wonderful system of open field work, which means that the spectators will have a genuine treat.

Haverhill is seven pounds heavier on the total average and Coach Bronerick has built up a superb defense while Delaney, his lightning back has been one of the school boys wonders of the year. Captain Pearson, the plugging fullback, Gilroy, the quarter, picked by many Boston papers as the best all-round general and Charley White, a half back who has worked up a great attack, and a line that opens up gigantic holes will greatly aid Haverhill. The stubborn defense which helped Haverhill win over many schools this year is hardened and ready for the fray.

That the Scott High team has power and drive is well known. That they will rely mostly on end runs and straight football seems certain. Arrangements are being made to handle a record crowd in the field where was staged the Georgetown-Dartmouth game earlier in the year. Haverhill has the plant to accommodate a crowd of any size and the game should be the best contest of the entire year.

THE ROCKINGHAM A. C. HAS GOT TOGETHER A BILL THAT IS SURE TO GIVE THE FANS A LOT OF SATISFACTION

There is a strong sentiment among town that the end which the Rockingham A. C. has arranged for tonight will prove the most satisfactory the club has ever staged. Some exceptionally strong shows have been promoted during the past year but the last show judged in comparison did not measure up to the standard. It should be remembered, however, that Young Bill is in a class of his own at 125 lbs.

Since he boxed here he just played with Willie Russell in Manchester, stepped battling Reddy in 3 rounds at Lawrence, and made his opponent quit in 4 rounds before the Commercial Club in Boston last Friday night.

It looks as though the boys tonight are very evenly matched. In the preliminary Kid Science from Fort Constitution will make his initial local appearance. His opponent will be Young Lasmarias of the U. S. S. Duquesne. Lasmarias is a Filipino boy, the first to box in Portsmouth. He has shown a number of times around New York and Newport and is a great favorite with the ship's crew. He has speed to burn and is game as they make them.

The semi-final between Steve Travers of Littlefield and Benny Lewis of Manchester should be a top speed affair in all the 3 rounds. Lewis holds a close decision over Travers at catch weights and Steve will try to reverse matters tonight. Both boys are in weight in at 3 o'clock this afternoon and have made deposits with the matchmaker to weigh under 120 lbs. at that hour.

The main bout looks like the real goods and has the fans guessing good and hard. Tommy Danforth of Philadelphia and Joe Lawrence of the U. S. S. North Carolina are the stars in this 10 round session. Danforth is one tough boy and has the reputation of working every minute. Joe Lawrence has been kept busy during the past two years. He has shown in New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans and Pensacola. Only recently he got the decision over Red Kelly, champion lightweight of the fleet, and the North Carolina is so fast that most boys find it difficult to lay a glove on him. It looks like an evening of great sport for the fans with a record crowd in attendance as there has been a big advance sale of tickets.

WHOLE WESTERN PART OF ROUMANIA ABANDONED

Only Rear-Guard Actions Being Fought to Cover
Retreat of Main Army

London, Dec. 7.—Allied military press have been 100,000 men. The capture of Bucharest and Ploesti by the Central Powers. With a great army virtually mauling time at Salonica, on the west, and the resources of Russia in touch on the east, and more than three months in which to act, no adequate assistance has been given to Roumania by the Allies, on whose side she was fighting. The tremendous military strength of the Teutonic Powers was never better demonstrated than during this campaign. Drawing troops from the western and eastern fronts sufficient for their purposes in Roumania, they nevertheless have been able to prevent inroads of a decisive nature being made on their weakened lines. In the seizure of the whole western half of Roumania the Teutons have won more than military prestige, for Ploesti is the centre of the great oil district of Prahova Valley. Unless the Roumanians have been able to destroy or disable the oil wells, machinery and stores of oil, the invaders will get much needed war supplies. Moreover, in the Prahova Valley the Teutons are on the line of retreat of a portion of the Ruman second army. Although Berlin reports that 2000 prisoners were captured in yesterday's operations, apparently there was no "last stand" by the Ruman before their capital and Bucharest was virtually deserted and uninjured when the Teutonic forces entered it. The actions just prior to the capture of Bucharest probably were fought merely with a view to delaying the advance of Field Marshal von Mackensen's forces and adding to the escape of the main body of Rumanians. The capture of Ploesti, which is a railway junction thirty-six miles north of Bucharest, however, may have blocked the retreat of a part of the Ruman forces. German opinion is that the Rumanians have decided to abandon all of Wallachia, the main portion of the Ruman kingdom, and retire to Moldavia, their northeastern province, where their front would be materially shortened and where they would be in close touch with the Russians. Petrograd confirms this impression, announcing the evacuation of Bucharest and the retirement of the Rumanians who were holding off the Danube army to the south of the capital, as well as those to the north, probably indicating that an attempt was made to move virtually the entire Ruman force in the Bucharest region northward towards Moldavia before the entrance of the Teutonic troops into the capital. What measure of success has been attained in this operation has not yet developed. The ninth German army is pressing eastward north of Bucharest at an apparently rapid rate, its main line of advance probably being along the railway line to Buzov from Ploesti. The total captures of Rumanians by the forces of the Central Powers since the beginning of the war are reported to

BOXING NOTES

ARMORY BOUTS IN BOSTON
TUESDAY.

There will be some real fighting at the Grand Opera House, Boston, next Tuesday evening when the Armory A. stages a double wind-up of 12 rounds with two preliminaries of six rounds. While it may not be the classiest program that the Triple A. has arranged, yet it certainly is indicative of action for every boxer on the bill has a reputation for fast going.

The wind-up between Jeff Smith of New York and Joe Egan of Dorchester is a headliner in itself. Smith has been going like a champion and has won his three last bouts by the knock out route. If it wasn't for the fact that Egan has forced Jeff to deposit a substantial guarantee to make 150 pounds at nine o'clock on the night of the battle it would appear that Joe was due to get stowed away very early in the fight.

The weight will not help Smith despite Al Lippe's assertion that Jeff will be as strong as a bull at that poundage. If that is true, then the fast, clever Egan will have to work faster than he ever did to keep out of the reach of the wallop that Smith packs in his right.

Kid Henry, one of the toughest negroes that has been in the fight game in years, is the last victim of Smith's good right. It was the first time that Henry was ever knocked out. When Mike Twin Sullivan was going at his best, Henry beat him and aiso gave Tommy Quill the worst licking of his career, smashing the Abington boy's jaw. Henry was a set up for Smith. Herman Miller and Joe Herick were the other men whom Smith recently knocked out.

In the other twelve round wind-up Mike Donnelly of New York will meet Finny Boyle of Lowell. Mike has a very good reputation over in New York where he has done most of his fighting. He is fast, aggressive and can punch. He will need to live up to every bit of his reputation for Finny Boyle is one of the best boys of his weight in New England. It is a very clever but doesn't waste any time with fancy boxing. He is a fighter in every sense.

Jimmy Gray of Chelsea and Jimmy Burke of Foxboro are down on the card for the opening number, scheduled to go six rounds. Nate Segal of Revere and Jimmy Kenny of Wakefield are the other pair to mix in the preliminaries.

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning routine.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside-bathing before breakfast.

POLICE PHOTOS OF OLIVER OSBORNE.

These photographs of "Oliver Osborne," the mysterious character who is said to have impersonated James W. Osborne, a prominent New York lawyer, in affairs with Rae Tanzer, a young factory girl, were given out by the New York police the day the man was arrested as Charles H. Wax in Chicago. The police refused to say when or where the pictures were taken other than that they were taken while the man was in prison. Rae Tanzer identified James W. Osborne as the man who made love to her. She will be confronted with the man the secret service men of the Federal government declare was really the friend of the girl.

STRINGENT RULES FOR FRESHMEN

STATE COLLEGE BOYS MUST DO
EXCELLENT WORK TO GET IN TO ANY FRATS.

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Dec. 7.—Attention is called today to the new fraternity chinning rules by their distribution in printed form, although fraternities have been operating under them since the opening of college. This year no freshman will be taken into a fraternity until he has established himself as a student by passing 13 hours of work, and even then he must wait until 1 o'clock in the afternoon May 15 before he can expect an invitation.

Casque and Casket, a senior inter-fraternity organization, is in full and picturesque control of this reformed and open chinning season. Chinning is incessant but the fraternity man explains that it is not so strenuous an exercise as when all was done in six weeks as in former years. Now the fraternity may take its time, may know its man is worth having—in fact will get a guarantee from the college registrar that the candidate is in good and regular standing—and at the same time the freshman has needed opportunity for reflection. By May it is felt he should know his own mind.

On the Sunday before the second Monday in May the Casque and Casket, solemnly assembled, will receive from the fraternities the names of the men invited to membership. The Casque and Casket will then send out to the Candidates uniformly worded invitations. Some freshmen will find they have been invited by several organizations.

Monday, May 7, at 4 o'clock the freshmen invited will make their way into the presence of the Casque and Casket and deliver their answers. The answers uniformly worded, will be placed in a sealed box by 8:30 o'clock. The student enters the room at 4 o'clock. No one may come with him. He is to decide then and must not leave the room until he has decided. Moreover he must decide by 5:00 o'clock.

Word as to decisions is sent to the fraternities which at once gather in their new members and decorate them with pledge insignia. Once the freshman appears publicly wearing his pledge badge, the irrevocable step has been taken. He is no longer eligible to membership in any other fraternity.

The three sororities represented at New Hampshire College have just completed their chinning season and announce the list of new members. The bids were issued through the sorority council and the results are as follows: Pi Alpha Phi—Lucille Burleigh of Franklin, N. H.; Esther Sughrue of Nashua; Margaret Gipe of Nashua; Lucile J. Jones of Milton; Helen A. Murphy of Concord; Phoebe M. Stryker of George's Mills; Blanche P. Diamond of Concord; Adelaide E. Glidden of Epping.

Alpha Xi Delta—Judith V. Jenness, Dover; Ethelle M. Hayes of Dover; Grace Atwood of Worcester, Mass.; Grace Joy, Newmarket; Mildred Prescott of Auburn; Florence Kelley of Plaistow; Edith Hodgdon of Rochester; Chf Omega—Grace Wallace of Manchester; Mary Bailey of Durham; Celia Gardner, New London; Rachel Bryant, Portsmouth; Doris Banks, Franklin; Katherine L. Park, Warren; Alice Fletcher, Concord.

BIG HIGH SCHOOL GAME AT HAVERHILL TOMORROW

Essex County's Massachusetts football team will clash with the champion of five western states in Haverhill's new stadium next Saturday.

Haverhill high undefeated all this year by any of her 12 opponents and tied by but one, Manchester, N. H., meets Peabody, another Massachusetts victorious eleven in Haverhill on Wednesday. The winner of this contest will meet the Scott High eleven of Toledo, Ohio, at 2 o'clock next Saturday in Haverhill.

The game between Haverhill and Peabody should be one of the best schoolboy contests of 1916. Haverhill, under Coach Frederick, has developed a wonderful fighting machine. Peabody, one of the smaller schools has created a surprise and has cleaned up even some of the big schools in and around Boston. Scott High issued the challenge to Haverhill but the school city management believed that the big game of Saturday would be played by the Essex county victor.

Which ever team wins Wednesday, should as much as any team in the state be accorded the state championship. Brookline is the only other of the schools undefeated, but Haverhill has been unable to procure a date with this team. Indications are that Haverhill will win from Peabody as Haverhill has a more experienced and heavier contingent.

The big game comes on both Wednesday and Saturday, both will start at 2 o'clock and both will be staged in the wonderful playing field created by civic spirit and enterprise in Haverhill.

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Washington, Dec. 7.—Fears that the population of the United States is growing so fast that it will outstrip the production of food are set at rest by the report of Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston, made to congress today.

The production of foods in the U. S. has held its own in some branches and has increased in others. The alarming decline in beef production which set in some time ago reached the lowest point in 1913, and since then has increased materially. At the same time there has been a marked increase in the production of swine. Sheep have declined slightly. More of these meat animals have been slaughtered under government supervision during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916, than ever before. The report states. The heaviest slaughter has been accompanied by an increase in the number of living animals, however.

Secretary Houston says that the situation gives reason for the brightest optimism, it being indicated that the United States cannot only supply its own food needs, but can feed a large proportion of the people of the outside world.

The report states that the department has energetically worked through the eradication of disease and the development of stock raising, to increase the food supply. He recommends the inauguration of a vigorous campaign against tuberculosis in hogs and cattle which he estimates is causing annual losses in the United States of $25,000,000. The grazing capacity of the public domain has been increased from 15 to 30 per cent during the year the report says. The perfection of grazing regulation on an additional 250,000,000 acres of public lands would enhance the meat supply says the secretary. Secretary Houston advocates more sheep raising.

The secretary's report states that the secret of continuing to feed the world lies in the expansion by the American people of the acreage of tilled lands. Food crops should be established and better regulated he declares. Crops should be rotated scientifically, the secretary declares and the entire business of tilling the soil should be placed on a more scientific basis.

Mr. Houston's report says much progress has been made in improving methods of marketing crops, particularly fruits and vegetables. He tells of his market news service by which news of shipments of crops is distributed to the farmers.

A marked improvement in the quality of food and drugs offered the public has been brought about through rigorous enforcement of the Food and Drugs act says the report.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrivel, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderline tonight—no—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderline from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness. But what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderline is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

Christmas Savings Clubs.

The time is near at hand when members of Christmas savings clubs will enjoy the fruits of their frugality for the past year.

The Christmas savings club is an institution of recent origin, and has proved very popular and useful in many cities. Chicago claims to have originated the idea, but it has since spread to many other cities, with the result that every year thousands of people are prepared for some extra expenditures at Christmas time without feeling a pinch that would otherwise be unavoidable. The small savings which they drop into the banks during the year are sufficient to carry them over the holiday season comfortably, and members of the clubs everywhere are enthusiastic over the success of the scheme, as are the banks that take care of the money, they realizing that membership in these clubs leads in many cases to permanent saving.

Some of the Chicago banks have large numbers of this class of depositors and in a few weeks will pay out thousands of dollars to club members, and there is a similar condition in many other cities, which were quick to follow the lead of Chicago in this matter. The Christmas savings club is now generally recognized as an institution of value, and every city that is without one or more is the loser.

At Christmas time there is always a call for extra expenditures, particularly in households where there are children, and it is worth much for families that are not forehanded to be able to go to a bank and draw enough to tide them comfortably over the holiday. It is far better to draw the money and pay for what they buy than to contract debts to fret about till they are paid. This is a lesson that many learn through their identification with savings clubs, and it is a lesson that leads many to establish permanent accounts in the savings banks.

And so the Christmas savings club serves a double purpose. It not only provides for holiday expenditures, but in many cases lays the foundation for habits of thrift which mean much to individuals and families in later years. As a rule the American people are not as saving as they ought to be, and anything that will stimulate the habit of thrift is worthy of the utmost encouragement.

The yellow flag performance of the suffragists while President Wilson was delivering his message to Congress was a mild affair as compared with the outbreaks of their British sisters. Just the same, it was not the nice or the proper thing to do, and the act will not strengthen the cause so dear to the hearts of those responsible for it.

New York city has been having an "open window week," and it is given out that billions and billions of disease germs have been brought to grief through contact with fresh air. But there will be days between now and spring when most of the windows in the metropolis will be kept closed, germs or no germs.

Do not forget that your home merchants are prepared to supply all of your holiday wants as reasonably as they can be bought anywhere in the world, and remember that a dollar kept at home is worth something to the community, while one sent to a distant mail-order house is gone forever.

It is hinted that some of the big railroads would be glad to sell out to the government. Under all the circumstances their position is easy to understand, yet it is probable that government ownership of railroads in this country is a long way off.

People who are to do their Christmas shopping and mail their Christmas packages early have no time to lose. And the advisability of doing this has been made so plain in recent years that further comment should be unnecessary.

After an enforced vacation of one term, Charles S. Ashley of New Bedford, Mass., has been elected mayor of his city for the 18th time. As a "come backer" Mr. Ashley stands at the head of the mayors of American cities.

The Bethlehem Steel Company has advanced wages 10 per cent., and this will inflict no hardship on the stockholders.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

No More Railroad Anarchy

(From the New York World)

Railroad unions, like railroad corporations, are affected with a public interest.

After a long and bitter struggle, that principle was definitely established as relating to railroad corporations. It has never been established as relating to railroad unions, and the President again asks that it be established.

In his address to Congress yesterday urging the completion of the railroad program partly adopted in the enactment of the Eight-Hour Law President Wilson draws a clear distinction between the railroad employee as an individual and railroad employee in combination. Nobody proposes that the railroad employee as an individual shall be denied the right to leave his employment. What the President asks is that "the concerted action of powerful bodies of men shall not be permitted to stop the industrial processes of the Nation, at any rate before the Nation shall have had an opportunity to acquaint itself with the merits of the case as between employee and employer."

That is a power that Government has both a moral and a legal right to exercise. Last summer the American people were suddenly confronted with a crisis which threatened the complete paralysis of transportation and therefore the complete paralysis of commerce and industry. There was no legal authority that could compel a full inquiry into the facts of the controversy. So far as the rights of 100,000,000 people were concerned, the railroads and their employees were free to plunge the country into an industrial civil war and continue the conflict until one side or the other was exhausted.

It was then that President Wilson suggested legislative remedies to meet the situation. The strike was averted by the Eight-Hour Day Law, but the danger remained and a new crisis may arise at any time.

In again insisting that there shall be neither strikes nor lockouts in the operation of railroads until there can be a full public investigation into the merits of the dispute, President Wilson is renealing the pledge that he made to the people last summer. The duty of Congress is too plain to be shirked, and while many labor leaders have expressed their opposition to the proposed legislation, it is a short-sighted opposition that runs parallel to the old railroad opposition to all forms of restraining legislation in the public interest.

Organized labor, in the long run, has nothing to lose by making itself responsible, nor can it successfully defy the power of Congress to regulate interstate commerce. The railroads once thought they could, but all their money and all their influence proved unavailing. They were compelled to recognize the rights of the public, and there are now few railroad investors or managers who would return to the old anarchistic order.

The railroad unions likewise must accept their public responsibilities and discharge their public duties. The "public-be-damned" business is done for on both sides of the line in railroad operation.

(From the New York World)

Secretary Daniels is entitled to praise for lifting the censorship established in Santo Domingo by an officer of the United States navy who evidently in this respect acted without authority. Whether in war or in peace, most Americans will applaud the sentiment expressed by the Prime Minister of Great Britain the other night when he said: "I don't like the word 'dictator'."

Has Made a Good Beginning

(From the Buffalo Express)

Inasmuch as November was the coldest eleventh month we have had in five years, it is up to Mr. Cuthbertson to make this the warmest December we have had in five years.

A Lesson in Waste Prevention

(From the Springfield Republican)

Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce told some department store girls at Washington Wednesday that 5000 tons of the 20,000 tons of paper produced daily in the United States is wasted, and he didn't mean that a good deal of printed matter might better not have been printed. The United States has only begun the intensive cultivation of its resources, and saving paper is a good way to develop a habit that we need to form.

"Ghost Meats"

(From the New York Times)

One too obvious falling of cold storage as an art preservative obstructed itself upon the palate of everybody who was unfortunate enough not to get his Thanksgiving turkey or chicken from a butcher faithful to the farm and farmyard. The cold-storage bird looks like turkey or chicken. But in the refrigerating interval the flavor has departed. The fowl, however good to look at, is but a sapless simulacrum. The taste, the very essence and impalpable charm are gone. The turkey is not turkey, the chicken is not chicken.

Cold storage has its uses, but the transformation of honest, toothsome meats into tasteless shavings, ghost meat, is not to be endured. Not merely the epicure but every sound eater, every partisan of simple country messes, every believer in the genuine and unsophisticated, has a right to kick at these sham birds.

The Broad Cause of the War
(Charles Whittier Baker in New York Times)

The broad cause of the war, as even Germans will admit was that Germany and Austria were ruled by a military

CURRENT OPINION

Twenty bills for universal health insurance before twenty legislatures this winter will result from the present widespread belief that universal health insurance is needed to bring the best medical attention to all.

Today only the very poor and the very rich benefit by the advances in medicine. Universal health insurance will bring it to that great middle group.

Efficient medical care provided by health insurance and the financial incentive to lessen the cost will reduce the amount of sickness which today causes a loss of nine days yearly to each of the nation's thirty million wage earners. Just as workman's compensation produced a "safety first" movement, so health insurance will inaugurate a "health first" campaign.—By John D. Andrews, Secretary American Association for Labor Legislation.

illegally. Had their peoples possessed such bulwarks of liberty as freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom from military control of civil government, rulers elected by and responsible to the people—had these existed in Austria and Germany, that terrible demand on Serbia would never have been made, or if an unwise set of officials had made it, the people would have repudiated it. They would have promptly recognized it as the first step toward making them food for cannon.

Nearly three-quarters of a century ago the German people made a mighty effort to obtain for themselves a free and democratic government. Had that effort succeeded the great world conflagration that has raged for over two years would never have been kindled.

Great Britain, as the leader of the Allies, can bestow no greater blessing on the world and on the German people themselves than by aiding them to obtain the liberty they failed to secure for themselves and which, so long as they lack it, makes them a menace to the world.

A plain declaration from the Allies that peace may come when Germany will establish a democratic government in place of its autocratic military rule will turn a vast proportion of the German people from enemies into friends. And surely there can be no doubt that here lies the road—and the only road—toward a durable peace. Haiti came in right in one thing—we cannot safely ignore the causes of the war.

Champing at Champ's Philosophy

(From the New York Sun)

Champ Clark's idea that a country can keep out of war by attending to its own business would cause a Belgian to smile sadly and mockingly. So far as nations are concerned it does not take two to make a quarrel—only one.

Muddling Along

(From the Boston Traveler)

Great Britain is still muddling along. She has a new premier, but it is not conceivable that his term of office will be a long one. There are certain discordant elements which should be satisfied, but it is not probable that they will be. The labor forces do not take kindly to the latest order of things, and they have no hesitation in saying so. So long as Ireland remains unredeemed, and there is not the slightest indication of a purpose to redeem them.

The press and public of England are aroused to the fact that the war is not being won by the allies and that the latter are barely holding their own. War is not won by special articles from Kipling or by prophecies from Wells. From France some circumstantial reports of rising dissatisfaction with results, and France, it is well known, has been bearing bravely the heaviest burden of the allies' cause.

Nevertheless, we are told that the war must not end until the allies have attained what they are fighting for! What are they fighting for? The extermination of all the small nations? Or are they waiting until Russia can make her final terms with Germany?

Living on Forty Cents

(From the Nashua Telegram)

Twelve picked persons of the health department of the city of Chicago, six men and six women, have successfully completed the experiment of living for a fortnight on an expenditure of less than 40 cents a day. The experiment attracted nation-wide attention but what did it prove? As the weeks have been followed from day to day, the question has naturally arisen of whether or not an average family, picked by and large, could or would do likewise. Another question is whether the average family pay as much as 40 cents per day for their food and clothing and other necessary expenses? If they do what do they have left at the end of the week for the movies and the Christmas Savings clubs?

The Chicago experiment as it has been reported in the Eastern papers might well be supplemented to develop the fact whether or not, here in New England the prices of food stuffs and the general conditions will admit of an even better showing and whether or not persons can live well and contentedly at less or more than it cost the Chicago experimenters.

In the actual costs figured at Chicago no provision was made for the overhead charges, including service, heat, light and rent. The menus were well balanced and apparently abundant in that all of the squad gained in weight.

With the present high costs of living experiments of this kind bring

Those Suffrage Pests

(From the Boston Post)

Of what real use can any suffragist regard the silly and tasteless interruption to the delivery of the message of the President of the United States in the House of Representatives by the letting down of a banner upon which was inscribed an impertinent question aimed at the Executive?

Does it do any good to the cause for a set of women of a radical suffragist organization to make pests of themselves and insult the head of the nation by so acting? We feel that most women, suffragists or not, will answer no.

NAVY SURPASSES ALL PREVIOUS RECORDS

Washington, Dec. 8.—The largest expansions in lines of peace and the greatest efficiency since its organization in 1795 has marked the navy department during the past fiscal year. Secretary Daniels says in his annual report to the President, made public today.

"The naval appropriation act for the fiscal year 1917," the secretary of the navy declares "stands out beyond all precedent in the entire history of the United States navy. The total appropriation of $313,334,212 is more than twice as large as the amount carried by an previous appropriation bill. The department will be able as a result of this act to place the ammunition reserves for the navy for the first time on a basis of that full measure of preparedness which the present act has shown to be so important."

As a result of this broad policy Secretary Daniels estimates that the navy will possess in 1921 the following:

Battleships, first line	27
Battle cruisers	6
Battleships, scout line	25
Armored cruisers	9
Scout cruisers	12
Cruisers, first class	6
Cruisers, second class	3
Cruisers, third class	10
Destroyers	108
Fleet submarines	12
Coast submarines	130
Monitors	6
Gunboats	18
Supply ships	4
Fuel ships	15
Transports	6
Tenders to torpedo vessels	6
Special types	8
Ammunition ships	2

These numbers are based on the

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

Washington, Dec. 8.—"We must take our choice in the coming year of paying wages and purchasing supplies on the current basis or else must still further resist the public work," says Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield in his annual report to congress today in discussing the high cost of living. It had hit the government service hard, he said, and he forecasts a considerable increase in the cost of maintaining the public service due to general increases in the prices of all supplies and the wages which must be paid men in order to enable them to live.

There has been, he said, an increase of 31 per cent during the last year in the cost of commodities which go to make everyday needs of the normal family. Secretary Redfield offers no remedy for the situation, apparently feeling that the high prices must be paid.

The report says that the favorable balance of foreign trade of the U. S. for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1916, was $2,135,776,355. The total exports amounted to $4,333,658,565 and the total imports to $2,197,882,210. The report states that the promise for the ensuing year is to be an even greater foreign trade.

Further, Secretary Redfield reports that our foreign indebtedness has been cut down $3,000,000,000 and that the United States has lent abroad the tremendous sum of $1,500,000,000 since the war began.

"We are the wealthiest nation in the world and the most prosperous one," says the secretary. Our debts are trifling, he says, some foreign nations less rich than some of our states bearing heavier burdens of debt than the whole American nation.

Secretary Redfield says that to maintain our strong position and our second gold reserve we must not only continue our heavy exports, but must increase our loans and investments abroad. In this he takes issue with some of the other government authorities, notably the federal reserve board which have cautioned the country against investing too freely in foreign securities.

Secretary Redfield reports that his department has done much work in protecting the lives of steamship excursionists. He reports that the steamboat inspection service has never been made so active as during the last year in safeguarding persons bound on pleasure trips on the water. On 2,551 occasions during the year the 16,001 says inspectors have counted a total of 3,244,533 passengers embarking on excursion steamers. On 187 occasions the inspectors have stopped the embarkation of passengers because the safe limit of capacity has been reached. It is responsible to assume, Mr. Redfield declares that had not the inspectors halted the embarkation the boats would have been overloaded, with possibly many fatal accidents resulting. The public does not cheerfully co-operate in this work the report says.

As an echo of the Eastland disaster in the Chicago river, Secretary Redfield urges that a board of naval architects be attached to the steamboat inspection service to pass upon the safety of excursion steamers.

The report says that during the year the bureau of fisheries has by its investigations and experiments added several new food fish to the diet of the American people in this way helping to keep down the cost of living.

The American merchant marine has increased more rapidly in the past two years than ever before in the history of the country, says the report. During the period the tonnage engaged in foreign commerce has been doubled and now reaches 2,191,175 gross tons. No abatement of the increase is in sight, it is stated.

The secretary recommends that more stringent regulations governing the operation of motor boats be provided. He says the amateur motorboat operator is a menace to navigation.

NEW ENGLAND MUST FIGHT TO HOLD TRADE

Boston, Dec. 7.—New England was the recipient today of a vigorous appeal from George W. Perkins for the immediate mobilization and exercise of Washington during the coming winter of the cold influence of this section in favor of the formulation of a constructive American trade at home and abroad.

A Programme for Congress
"I believe we should immediately have from the Congress just now convening constructive legislation that will relieve our railroads of their enormous embarrassment and that will permit them to obtain Federal charters or some form of Federal license; that we should either abolish the Sherman law or so modify it that large business units can be legally conducted under the supervision and regulation of the Federal Government in such a way as to bring benefit to producer, consumer, stockholder and labor alike, eradicating through supervision and publicity, the evils of which the public complained and preserving the economic advantages that they undoubtedly provide; that questions relating to industrial occupations should be under Federal regulation and control, particularly where the state laws regarding them are all at sixes and sevens. In short, that we should frankly recognize and admit that we can no longer act as though we were forty-eight separate nations. If we wish to continue to call ourselves the United States of America and speak of ourselves as a nation. The cable, the telephone, the wireless, the submarine, the airship demand that we become a unified nation in fact as well as theory, just as the other nations of the world are unified, and that we work for but one single purpose, viz., the best, the highest good of the nation as a whole."

Addressing himself toward the close of his remarks directly to the captains of industry in this corner of the country, he said:

New England stands before all our eyes as typifying clear thinking, determined action, patriotic purpose. Here is where the great constructive American movements have started and that spread throughout our land to successful fruition. I have not the slightest doubt that a vast deal of good would be accomplished if this important body would immediately take up the great question, formulate a constructive policy, and urge other similar bodies throughout the United States to join them in giving it publicity, and in opening a bureau in Washington to urge it, not occasionally but constantly, upon our national legislative bodies this winter.

rate nations. If we wish to continue to call ourselves the United States of America and speak of ourselves as a nation. How Business Men Can Help

"As our lawmakers are either ignorant, prejudiced or indifferent to the great new economic conditions now confronting us and on which hinge the future welfare of our people, there is nothing left for us to do but arouse ourselves as patriotic business men and appeal to the country with a constructive programme that will be for the benefit of not the few but the many."

"Will not this influential body immediately take the lead in such a programme for such a thoroughly worthwhile cause?"

The handicaps under which our foreign trade suffers today, the speaker said, were three:

"First, we have not the necessary large industrial units with which to go after it, and under our Sherman law it is impossible legally to have the means to carry out the ships in which to carry our goods."

"Third, our Government offers not the slightest protection to life or property in foreign countries. Through its shameful neglect of Americans and American business in Mexico and American lives on the high seas it plainly makes Americans and American business concerns as to its policy and attitude on this important subject."

Mr. Perkins began his remarks by giving a brief, but illuminating, view of the threatening aspect for the future of America, which trade conditions the world over hold today. Where Germany has insisted on co-operation, America has been bent upon dissolution in the organization of industry. He warned his hearers that the story of America's enormous exports can be traced, directly or indirectly, to purchases by Europe of war supplies consisting of munitions, food and clothing, that exports of explosives alone have grown from about $6,000,000 in 1914 to nearly $500,000,000 so far this year; that exports of beef have grown from 7,000,000 pounds in 1914 to 250,000,000 pounds so far this year; and many other articles. In proportion, while our trade growth in neutral countries has been little more than normal except in the neutral countries of Europe, where the goods have doubtless been passed on to the warring nations.

JUDGE KNOWLTON CALLS RECEIVERSHIP UNFAIR

Boston, Dec. 7.—Judge Marcus P. Knowlton of Springfield, former chief justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court and now one of the federal trustees of the B. & M. road, was the most important witness today in the receivership proceedings now going on in the United States District Court.

Judge Knowlton was put on the stand by Asa P. French, representing P. J. V. Street, the dissenting opinion written by Judge Knowlton last May objecting to the proposed plan of reorganization, the rejection of which led to the application for a receivership, was read by Mr. French. Judge Knowlton made it clear that he has not changed his opinion as to the proposed plan of reorganization, a copy of which has been filed in the present proceedings.

In part his opinion which was read into the record today said: "The proposed plan is unfair and injurious to the stockholders of the B. & M. railroad, and if carried out, it will leave them with little possibility of ever receiving any further return on their investment. It is to be noted first, that under the plan the control of the railroad is to be taken away from the second preferred and common stockholders and put in the hands of the first preferred stockholders."

The leased lines are to receive the amount of their present rent for all time, if the system can be made to earn so much. The leased lines contribute nothing, the common stockholders make their contribution. It is most unjust in making a new arrangement to ask the common stockholders for a contribution and leave them nothing but stock without earning capacity, while the leased lines continue for all time to receive their present income.

APPEAL MADE FOR RELIEF OF WAR SUFFERERS

New York, Dec. 7.—A frantic rush of thousands of famished Armenian refugees from Turkey into the Russian Caucasus is reported in cables just received through the State Department by the American committee for Armenian and Syrian Relief, No. 50 Fifth Avenue. The cables come from the committee's agents in Constantinople, Tiflis, Tabriz and Beirut.

These refugees are being cared for partly by the $300,000 raised by the committee last week, just before the messages were received. This amount, according to the cables, however, is providing entirely insufficient, the demand for more necessities in one district alone reaching $100,000 a month.

The most startling information is contained in a cable from the American consulate at Tiflis. It is signed by Rev. George C. Reynolds, for 40 years a missionary at Van, Turkey, in the center of the Armenian districts and by Ernest Yarrow and Harrison A. Maynard, also American missionaries.

The cable reads: "After a year of hiding in caves, hunted like wild animals, thousands of new refugees are coming from Turkey. They are being fed by the Russian government but are destitute of clothing and shelter. There is great suffering from the severe climate. At-bankers and of the holders of notes of the Hampden Railroad Company have been dominant to the great sacrifice of the stockholders whom I represent. The directors of the B. & M. have been advised by counsel that they have a valid defense against the Hampden Railroad Company's claim. The defense rests upon the ground that the law protects stockholders in corporations from illegal and unauthorized contracts made in the corporation's name by its officers. I am of the opinion that this defense will prevail if the case is tried in the courts."

While Judge Knowlton did not in any way show any change of view as to the proposed plan of reorganization, he said that he believed the road needs the protection of the court and expressed the view that no reorganization was likely to have been brought about until the road was in the hands of the court.

Late in the afternoon Conrad W. Crocker, representing Charles McGraw of the B. & M. Minority stockholders Protective association opened his case. He offered certain records bearing on the election of J. P. Morgan, Charles S. Allen and others to the board of directors of the B. & M. in November, 1909. He said when objection was made to this that he sought to lay the foundation of the train of fraud which he claims runs through the history of the corporation from the time of these elections until the answer in the receivership suit was filed by the directors. This suit, he asserted, was filed for the purpose of concealing fraud and conspiracy.

Judge Morton held that the evidence was remote and incompetent and that the interveners were to be confined strictly to such fraud as they can show to have existed subsequent to the appointment of the federal trustees and to evidence as to the present financial condition of the road.

ter personal investigation by our committee we urge an appropriation of a hundred thousand dollars for bedding for fifteen thousand new refugees. Thousands of women with children to support are in distress and hopeless. Our committee is now employing one thousand women in Berlin in industrial work. As many more have been turned away in despair we are opening a new centre in Alexandropol and strongly urge an appropriation of two hundred thousand dollars to employ seven thousand women for six months at one dollar per week. Moral as well as physical results already are very apparent." Reynolds, Yarrow, Maynard.

Brief message from Tabriz reporting: "Relief funds finished months ago. Distress is great" has been followed only after eighteen hours delay by as large a remittance of funds as the committee has had in its disposal for this region.

From one of the most important centres the following message has just been received. "Existing relief work now in charge of Americans reaches over 30 localities. Allocations must be increased at this season. Requests from Americans total $100,000 a month. More funds needed immediately."

An expression of gratitude to the American people also has just come through the state department to the committee from Beirut, Syria. The message was sent following the receipt of a remittance to provide help until the arrival of the American 1916 Christmas ship to Syria. "Remittance is most opportune," says the cable, "Please advise all those who are responsible of the great value of this contribution which will prove for future usefulness many who otherwise could not have been kept." The navy collier Quasar, provided by the government serving Armenia and Palestine as well as Syria will leave New York early in December, carrying 1000 cases of condensed milk for children, rice, lima beans, wheat, flour, petroleum, cottonseed oil, sugar and clothing, which military regulations provides must be new. The clothing will include warm underwear, sweaters and light weight shoes for men, women and children, cotton and woolen socks for men, blankets and blanket shawls, gray, cotton and woolen cloth in the piece and unbleached muslin. The cargo is being assembled at the Bush Terminal, Brooklyn and when completed will cost more than a quarter million dollars, most of which is still needed.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS IF BACK HURTS OR BLADDER BOTHERS.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull, aching in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

THOUGHT THAT HOSPITAL WAS SAILOR'S HOME

FRECKISH SOUSE WAS FORCIBLY REMOVED FROM HOSPITAL BY THE POLICE AND IS HELD ON CHARGE OF BEING DRUNK.

Early last evening a man entered the reception room of the Portsmouth Hospital, and he refused to get out. No very close examination was necessary on the part of the officials of the hospital to discover that his great trouble lay in the fact that he had been scoping up too large quantities of booze. At any rate, he insisted on staying there and not bing that the superintendent or any of her assistants could do, would induce the man to leave the place. A phone call to the police station sent the wagon over to Hospital Hill and on its return they had the man who preferred the hospital as a place to loaf to any other place in the world. At the station he gave the name of John Devlin with Rhode Island as his native state. He was booked as a drunk.

At the station the man gave every impression of being a sailor, but not an American, but as though he was attached to a foreign ship. He wore a uniform, decorated with brass buttons and a dinky cap. It is thought by the police officers that he mistook the hospital as the sailor's home. He gave his occupation as a salesman.

AT THE PRINCIPAL BOSTON THEATRES

TAYLOR HOLMES IN 'HIS MAJESTY, BUNKER BEAN'

2nd Week of Phenomenal Success at Majestic Theatre, Boston.

Taylor Holmes, one of the most successful and volatile farceurs on the American stage, will be seen at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, for the second week, beginning next Monday, December 11th. In that great comedy success, "His Majesty Bunker Bean."

His success in Boston has been instantaneous, and crowded houses prevail at every performance.

Bunker Bean is a serious-minded young stenographer who is obsessed with the thought that sometime way back his ancestry was of the nobility. He reads much on the subject of reincarnation, and is made to believe by a fake clairvoyant that he is genuinely descendant of Napoleon, and that his first appearance was made as Ramtiah, an Egyptian king who ruled with kindness and mercy the tribes of Egypt, two thousand years ago. He is duped to purchase a mummy of Ramtiah with money bequeathed him by a relative. With the self-confidence gained by the belief in his noble ancestry, he becomes bold and fearless, a business man of the world, acquires wealth and position and the girl of his choice, who is the daughter of his employer.

The comedy is surcharged with good wholesome fun, at times hilarious, but always provoking hearty laughter. Joseph Brooks, the producer of "His Majesty Bunker Bean," has surrounded the star with an unusually clever company. Including Florence Shirley, Charles Abba, Robert J. Kelly, Lillian Lawrence, Jack Devereaux, Marion Kerby, Walter Sherwin, Clara Louise Moore, Grace Peters, Horace Mitchell, Harry C. Power, Belford Forrest, Amyette Westbay, John Hogan and George C. Lyman.

"YOU'RE IN LOVE"

The New Arthur Hammerstein Musical Comedy Begins Second Week at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, Next Monday, Dec. 11.

"You're in Love," a new musical play by Otto Hauerbach and Rudolph Friml presented by Arthur Hammerstein at the Shubert Theatre, Boston, met with immediate success last Thursday evening, when it had its metropolitan premiere, and will start on its second week next Monday evening, December 11th. This is the fourth work of these noted composers and librettists that Mr. Hammerstein has given to the stage—the charming "The Merry," the melodious "High Jinks" and the tinkling "Katinka."

An interpreting cast of excellent promise is provided, and an orchestra of 30 under the direction of John McGhie. Prominent in the company are Florine Arnold, Richard Tabor, May Thompson, Al Roberts, Maria Flynn, Albert Dellanton, Russell Bartlett, John Raffael. There is a large chorus of attractive singers.

able, singable, delightfully tinkling kind, are allotted to the principals. Mr. Hammerstein has furnished settings of exquisite beauty and sartorial embellishments that for classic artistry have been equaled by any of his former productions.

"THE CINDERELLA MAN"

That Charming Comedy of Youth and Love Enters on its 2nd Month at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston, Next Monday, Dec. 11th.

It is no exaggeration to say that "The Cinderella Man," which enters on the 2d month at Ye Wilbur Theatre, Boston (the house of long run), next Monday evening, December 11th, is one of the prettiest plays of the season, one of the two or three that will be remembered when the century, now in its teens, has grown old and gray at the half-century mark. The comedy is one of those refreshing, wholesome plays that are a continual joy. Its humor is natural, with no vestige of strain or artificiality, every line is clean, in short, "The Cinderella Man" is a play to be enjoyed and remembered.

The typical Morosco cast is composed of Shelly Hull, Phoebe Foster, Frank Baron, Bertie Churchill, Frank Gilmore, Reginald Mason, Theodore Blabcock, Percival Moore and Louise Rial. Matinees are given on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

JAMES T. POWERS

In a New Farcial Comedy Success, "Somebody's Luggage" at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, Next Week.

Messrs. Shubert will present at the Plymouth Theatre, Boston, next week, beginning Monday evening, December 11th, a new farcial comedy by Mark Swan, entitled "Somebody's Luggage." The star of the piece will be James T. Powers, associated for so many years with successful comedies. Mr. Powers is well remembered in Boston as the stellar comedian in such notable successes as "The Runaway Girl," "The Gelsia," "San Toy," "The Messenger Boy," "The Blue Moon," and "Havana."

He goes to the Plymouth Theatre direct from a successful run at the 14th Street Theatre, New York. His starring company will include Beatrice Terry, Percy Warren, George Manning, Charles Peyton, George Renshaw, Homer Granville, Ronald Byron, Berli Mercer, Lionel Belmont, Clifford Brock Betty Bellairs, Tom Rogers and Robert Ayrton.

Alfred Hopper the character played by Mr. Powers, is a middle-class clerk in London. He is engaged to Caroline Parfitt, who has a cousin Walter Owen Owen is ostensibly an officer of a Channel Boat, but is in reality in the English Secret Service. Caroline, eventually, through the good offices of her cousin, gets in the Secret Service, for which she works one day of every seven. Her duties take her always to the Co. and these regularly timed absences arouse the suspicion of Hopper, who becomes all the more enraged because the young lady cannot tell her secret. Hopper determined to find out, does a little gum shoe work on his own account. It is on the Channel Boat that Hopper finds his sweetheart in company with her cousin. He wants to know everything, but the young people appear even more secretive than at home. On this boat is an Australian who carries a portmanteau the exact duplicate of the one possessed by Hopper. This Australian, while slightly intoxicated, insists on claiming Hopper's portmanteau. Crawford is blown overboard, losing his life and on account of the luggage the lost man is identified as Hopper.

This will give a brief outline of the complications which arise. Mr. Powers has injected many funny lines into the already humorous story, and advance accounts may be relied upon that the play is possibly the funniest in which Mr. Powers has ever been cast.

LAST TWO WEEKS OF HIPPODROME

That big and wondrous New York

Hippodrome spectacle, "Hip, Hip, Hooray," will not leave town this week but will be continued at the Boston Opera House until Saturday evening, December 15. The conclusion was reached on Saturday as the result of the tremendous impetus in the business for the past week and the extraordinary demand upon the box office for tickets.

The audiences yesterday afternoon and last night were such as to tax the capacity of the Boston Opera House and the program arranged by Charles Williamson was one of exceptional merit as well as novelty. Charlotte, the "queen of the runners," was the bright particular feature, and her entire was made memorable by her performance of the celebrated Candle Dance. This is an ice diversion which has only been performed in this country twice before—once in celebration of the 300th performance of "Hip, Hip, Hooray" and again in celebration of John Philip Sousa's last birthday. The Candle Dance shows first of all four of the prettiest little skaters on the ice placing sixteen lighted candles in a diamond on the centre of the lake. Immediately afterwards Charlotte makes her appearance and does some intricate and complicated skating movements. Circling around the outside, she makes each corner so as to complete the whole floral design, on one foot, then, starting backward and skating on one foot only, she traverses the complete sixteen lights, circling in and about them, introducing all the while novel, artistic and startling movements in the very centre of the lights. Three circles, groups, brackets, counters, lockers, forward and backward are interspersed everywhere among the glittering and brilliant decorations in a surprising and bewildering group of figures. This dance serves particularly to illustrate the marvelous muscular control of Charlotte. It also evinces her charming sense of beauty in form. The applause which punctuated the amazing exhibition of the little artists bore testimony to the perfection of her performance. This Candle Dance will be repeated at every performance during the week. Needless to say the other special features of the great show, including Sousa and his band and the constant succession of surprises kept the audience forever on the alert for a new sensation.

ATTACHMENT IS TAKEN OFF MR. CARPENTER

COUNSEL AGREE THAT HE IS GOOD FOR $25,000—ALIENATION SUIT TO BE TRIED SOON.

Boston, Dec. 7.—By agreement of counsel the attachment of $250,000 on the property of George A. Carpenter of Wolfeboro and this city, which was made in the suit brought against him by Mrs. Marguerite Paul Carpenter, his daughter-in-law, for the alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Ralph Carpenter, will be dissolved. The matter came before Judge Fox in the Superior Court today.

However, the ad damnum of $250,000 will remain in the writ and the case will go to trial eventually before a jury, if not adjusted out of court, with that amount named in the writ.

The size of the attachment had a tendency to embarrass the defendant in the affairs of his real estate, so he wanted the amount reduced and made a motion for a reduction of the sum to $15,000.

Henry F. Hubbard has been brought into the case here to act with Ex-Dist. Atty. M. J. Sughrue as counsel for the defendant. Both were in court today. Walter I. Badger appeared for Mrs. Carpenter.

Divorce proceedings of the Carpenters were tried recently in New Hampshire. Judge Kivel, after granting a divorce after discovering that certain witnesses had testified against Mrs. Carpenter to incidents that he felt they could not have seen. He viewed the scene described by the witnesses and thereupon changed his decision.

Proceedings over the custody of their child are now pending in the New Hampshire court.

The suit for alleged alienation of affections has been pending here for some time, and is expected to be reached for trial soon. It is understood that counsel for Mrs. Carpenter have been assured that Mr. Carpenter is able to meet any judgment that may be found against him in the suit. If a verdict were returned in favor of Mrs. Carpenter.

Counsel for Mrs. Carpenter had no desire to embarrass the defendant, so long as it is reasonably certain that in the event of a judgment being obtained for her it would be satisfied.

Mr. Hubbard will demand the suit at the trial and Mr. Badger will represent the plaintiff.

Judge Fox was informed of the disposition of the subject matter of the motion by arrangement between counsel, so the motion was taken off the list without further hearing.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR TURNS GRAY, FADED HAIR DARK AND GLOSSY

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time remedy improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
